Management at Vermont Hand Wash has fired three worker leaders who support efforts to organize a union with the United Steel Workers.

The carwash has also failed to remedy past unjust employment practices such as paying workers less than minimum wage, failing to provide basic safety equipment like gloves and masks for workers exposed to chemicals, and refusing to provide clean drinking water for workers.

What is the CLEAN Campaign?

CLEAN stands for Community-Labor-Environmental Action Network, a diverse coalition of nonprofit organizations committed to improving the lives of working families in greater Los Angeles. Carwash workers are some of the hardest working and most exploited workers in Los Angeles, often working for less than minimum wage and without basic protections required by the law. The CLEAN Carwash Campaign is a joint effort of CLEAN and the Carwash Workers Organizing Committee (CWOC) of the United Steelworkers to raise carwash workers' standard of living, to secure basic workplace protections and to address the serious environmental and safety hazards in the Los Angeles carwash industry.

Boycott List Announced

The CLEAN Carwash Campaign has announced a boycott of the following Los Angeles area carwashes:

- Vermont Hand Wash, 1666 North Vermont Avenue, at Hollywood and Vermont, Los Angeles
- Hollywood Car Wash, 6200 West Sunset Boulevard, near Sunset and Vine, Los Angeles
- Celebrity Car Wash, 901 North Vine Street, south of Santa Monica Boulevard, Los Angeles
- Five Star Car Wash, 9240 Reseda Boulevard, north of Nordhoff Street, Northridge
- Lawndale Car Wash, 17111 Hawthorne Boulevard, at 171st Street, Lawndale
