

4VQP.com PRIVACY POLICY

We are sensitive to the private information customers and visitors provide. The privacy of users who visit this site is respected. No effort is made to identify individuals or companies without their knowledge. The following policy is in effect for all of the web pages owned and operated by Echo Sources, Inc., including but not limited to 4VQP.com.

When visitors to 4VQP.com request pages, our web servers automatically recognize the browser's domain name and IP address. Our servers do not record e-mail addresses. We collect the domain names and IP addresses in order to aggregate information on what pages users access or visit. This information is collected solely for statistical purposes and is not used to identify individuals.

From time to time, we may ask users to provide their e-mail address or mailing address for the purpose of a survey or to provide additional services (i.e. news, events, policy changes, etc.). Whenever the identity of a visitor is recorded, we will clearly indicate the purpose of the request in advance of requesting the information. If the visitor chooses to supply a postal address in an online form, subsequent mailings from other reputable companies may be received.

Companies that may advertise on our web site may also use cookie technology. We do not control the use of cookies by our advertisers, co-consultants and / or sponsors.

This web site contains links to other web sites. Echo Sources, Inc. is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such web sites.

Occasionally, we may use our customer database to distribute a newsletter or commentary or important notices to our customers.

When you sign up for participation in forums posted on this website, your name or alias is recorded solely for the purpose of maintaining your own account within the forums. No effort is made to identify individuals or companies that participate or to monitor their activity in any way.

At a future time, this web site may have chat rooms, news groups, etc. available to its users. You are hereby notified that any information disclosed in these forums becomes public information. Therefore, you should exercise caution when deciding what information is disclosed therein; however, you are solely responsible for your own actions in these chat rooms.

We will share information with government agencies when legally required to do so and may cooperate with these authorities during investigations claiming illegal activity.

Except under the limited circumstances described above, we do not disclose customer information to third parties.

We may make changes to this policy from time to time. We will post any change to our privacy policy here, so be sure to check back periodically. We may also choose to notify our customers of significant changes by e-mail.

If you have any questions about the privacy policy statement posted on this web site, you may contact us at: sitepro1@comcast.net.

Thank you.
